1. This Office action is in response to the election without traverse filed January 17, 2006.

Claims 35-40 are pending. Claims 1-35 have been cancelled.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Brian White on January 26, 2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the specification:

In paragraph 31, the fifth sentence should be changed to:

"These four measurements should be acquired at at least three different DOIs for three of the measurements, and at least one of the four measurements should be sensitive to formation anisotrophy."

In the claims:

35. (Currently Amended) A method for well logging, comprising:

disposing an electromagnetic logging tool in a borehole penetrating a formation;

obtaining a plurality of measurements of formation resistivity while the logging tool is substantially at a particular location within the borehole, wherein

Art Unit: 2635

the plurality of measurements cover at least three different depths of investigation and at least one of the plurality of measurements is sensitive to formation anisotropy; and determining an electrical property of the formation based on the plurality of measurements.

36. (Currently Amended) The method of claim 35, wherein the determining an electrical property of the formation comprises determining an invaded zone resistivity, an un-invaded zone resistivity, formation anisotropy, or any combination thereof.

40. (Currently Amended) The method of claim 35, wherein the determining an electrical property of the formation uses a formation model selected from a 1D model, a 1D+1D model, a 2D model, and a 3D model.

3. Claims 35-40 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The claims recite a method for well logging using an electromagnetic tool at substantially the same location while making measurements at three different depths of investigation as well as a separate measurement sensitive to formation anisotropy. It is noted that different depths of investigation may be performed by locating portions of the logging tool at different depths but may also be performed by using different frequencies while having the portions of the tool substantially concurrent. Such a combination is not taught or suggested by the prior art of record. The use of logging tools to measure anisotropy is known but such teaching involves moving the tools within to borehole to make measurements at different depths. The method recited allows the simultaneous measurement at three depths that results in greater understanding of the electrical characteristics of the formation that would not be possible by measurements at individual depths.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
